Re: River Valley Christian Church

Ladies and gentlemen,

I have 34 years experience supervising fast track design build construction for a multi billion dollar commercial real estate development firm. I know what it takes to get a project designed and built within the constraints of time and budget. My recent experience working with Steve Shehorn, Kurt Williams and Jeff Hasty of T & W Church Solutions on the new River Valley Christian Church building in Martinsville Indiana proves they too know what it takes.

Time IS money and T & W brings a complete design build delivery system to the table. T & Ws transparency in taking a project from conception through completion is unique to the industry and invaluable to those not experienced with the pitfalls of construction accounting, planning, scheduling, contracts and liability. Just take a look at the T & W Church Solutions website and look under NEWS. I found these articles to be profoundly accurate in addressing what can and will happen if a project is not properly planned and managed as well as identifying opportunities for ministry many times overlooked due to the excitement and activities of a building project.

From start to finish T & W addressed and administered each component of the project as part of a process to insure complete customer satisfaction. I know I am completely satisfied with T & W Church Solutions. T & Ws performance and delivery of the finished product exceeded my expectations!

Sincerely,

Mike Martin
